Because of its potential for dependence or misuse, Xanax is classified as a Schedule IV controlled medication. It must only be dispensed with a valid prescription and under the guidance of a licensed clinician.

Why Professional Evaluation Matters

Before prescribing Xanax, clinicians carefully assess:

- The type and severity of anxiety or panic symptoms
- Medical history, including other mental health conditions
- Current medications that may interact with benzodiazepines
- Substance-use history to ensure safety

A legitimate evaluation—either in-person or via telehealth—ensures the prescription is appropriate and medically justified.
